SPORT IS MY SUBJECT

By DEACON WHITE

From all accounts the Grads are going to be put to the supreme test next week when they engage the Chicago ladies' baseball team, known as the Lake View Community Club, for the championship of the world. The coming challengers are, beyond the shadow of a doubt, a little the best collection of ironing tusslers that the illustrious selections of Coach Percy Page have ever contrived to meet.

All the dope, gleaned from all the records of this fair ensemble during the past season, clearly indicates that they are the finest and choicest quintet of lady baseball players that has ever challenged for the Underwood Trophy, that beautiful emblem of world's championship, which is held by the Commercial Graduates of this city.

They have blazed a trail of 34 victories in 36 starts throughout the territory of the middle western states, and in 29 league and tournament games ran up a total of 710 points against their opponents 162, which makes the average score of their triumph approximately 39 to 6.

All these victories mean something, but just how much is not clear to the fans in this city, because they know little or nothing of the calibre of the opposing teams.

But when it is learned that the Uptown Brownies, who gave the Grads the greatest battle of their career, were included in the list of victims of the Lakeview girls, it becomes as clear as the sun in its noonday meridian that these latest challengers from the shores of Lake Michigan are serious contenders for the championship crown of the world.

These Lakeview girls won two out of three games from the Uptown Brownies. They won on their own floor 16 to 5, lost at home of the Brownies 11 to 5, and on a neutral court downed them by the score of 22 to 10.

There is some food for thought here. The record of the Lakeview girls against the Brownies is a little better than the Grads against the same team. As a basis of comparison the game of the Lakeview team of the Brownies own floor can be thrown out. Then in two games, one at home and one on neutral grounds, the Lakeview girls defeated the Brownies by a total of 23 points.

The Grads in two games on their own floor beat the Brownies by a total of 8 points, the scores of the two games being 20 to 17 and 25 to 20.

While the comparative scores of two teams against a common opponent do not reflect their respective strength exactly, still they present some tangible basis for estimate. And judging from these comparative scores it is a pretty safe prediction that the Lakeview girls will give the Grads a pair of tropical battles next week and possibly extend the world's champs to the limit to hold their crown.

Too much reliance cannot be placed on these comparative scores, either. It must be remembered that the Grads met the Brownies last fall, while Lakeview played them recently. The Brownies may have retrograded as a team, or they may have improved. There is a change in the personnel of their team, which is likely to be for the worse, as it is commonly reported that they came here last fall "loaded" for beer.

The Grads, today, are a much improved team. Every member is a basket shooter of parts. The guards are just as formidable in this all-important department of the game as the forwards and center. Team play has been perfected, and every player has improved in the matter of handling the ball both in passing and receiving passes. They have more finish and more pace.

The big floor is a distinct advantage to the Grads, now that they have become accustomed to it, and have trained into the condition to stand the extra strength that greater floor space requires. The Lakeview team is very likely to become upset and disconcerted by the immense court. The extra amount of running that it entails may find them fading away in the latter stages of the game.

With Dot Johnson rounding into shape and available for these coming games the Grads chances of winning look better than fifty-fifty. However, it will take the games themselves to settle this point, and that is the attractive part of the coming engagements.

Maybe Lively Ball Is Bad, But Some Stars Manage To Win Games

on there's a heavy lens of the mudstone—gas—which might be captured by the wells, and used for power. To the great majority of us, no such attempt is made, and the greatest loss is due to ineffective drilling.

The oil-bearing sand lies in two layers. The bottom layer is cemented. The drill or casing penetrates the top layer first. The yield of oil is not as good as the drill goes in, but it's worth having. The cement layer having been exhausted, the drill goes on down, through the second layer, the yield greatly increased, until the richest of all, the bottom, is reached.

The cream of the deposit is skimmed off at the bottom and evaporated.

Half Term
How much oil is left in this way? Just the exact figure is not known but Nature Magazine of the International Conservation Association says that half of it—nearly 50 percent—has been used. The waste was just quite so great. Conservationists have checked somewhat. But it's still very much oil there was in the world. The figures in the United States is uncertain.
